BIDDING (PHONE/E-MAIL/INTERNET)

We will accept bids via mail, e-mail (all e-mail bids must be received by 9:00 pm Eastern Time Thursday the week the auction ends. All bidders must be registered no later than 9:00 pm Eastern Time by Thursday, the same week the auction you want to bid on begins, for Adventure House to accept your bid. To place an internet bid, go to www.adventurehouse.com/ah_auctions. You may view items, check current bids, place items on watch and place bids at the auction site. The site will allow you to browse each item, view image(s) of each item and also place bids.

BIDDING INCREMENTS

The first bid, regardless of method of acceptance, that matches or exceeds the opening bid becomes the high bid. The next highest bid will be displayed on the auction site for each individual lot. Note that pre-placed MAX BIDS may ultimately exceed the next high bid by less than 10%.

TERMS OF SALE

1. Buyer Premium for these auctions is 15%. Payment may be made through Square or Paypal through the website. You may also pay by check. A winning bid of $100 will be billed $115, which includes the 15% buyer premium. All checks or money orders must be drawn on a US Bank.
2. All items are sold to the highest bidder, as long as reserve is met.
3. Bidder accepts the terms and conditions of sale stated as follows when placing a bid.
4. Each item has an opening bid and the first person to match or exceed that amount will be designated as the high bidder. The item will be sold to the high bidder unless another bidder exceeds the high bid as accepted by the site. Note that pre-placed Max Bids may ultimately exceed the required bid by less than 10%. Bids are viewable online throughout the bid process, as soon as the items are listed as available for auction.
5. Tie bids [highly unlikely] will be decided by the first bid received.
6. RESERVES. In the event that a lot has a reserve, it will be sold to the high bidder once the reserve price has been met.
7. Winning bidder will pay winning bid amount, plus shipping/handling, buyers premium, and insurance (only if requested). Adventure House will ship items by United States Postal Service. Adventure House will declare the full value of each package going to a winning bidder residing outside of the United States.
8. All winning bidders living within the State of Maryland will pay 6% sales tax, unless the winning bidder provides a tax re-sale number.
9. We will not accept a phone/email or mail bid request to “top all other bidders.” We will however, be happy to accept and execute a max bid request. We will not be held responsible or liable for failing to execute a manual bidder’s high bid. Adventure House may at our discretion re-open the bidding on any lot.
10. All bidders must be registered with Adventure House. Registration includes name, address, phone number, and an email address.
11. Please review the auction table regarding the start and end time for each auction. Internet bidding is occurring at the same time and high bids will be updated immediately. The auctions will have a rolling close with each lot closing according to the auction table. If you have any questions regarding the items or lots, please don’t hesitate to call up to the day prior to the auction opening.
12. Cancelled bids. Adventure House will not accept any cancelled bids the day of the auction. If you need to cancel your bid, you must do so by 9:00 pm Eastern Time the day before the action is scheduled to close.
13. All winning bidders must pay for their items within 14 days. Adventure House will not assume responsibility for errors or omissions in the bid amount or item numbers made by the bidder. Please check your bids for accuracy prior to the final day. An error by Adventure House in description, condition or inability to ship an item are the only cause for a refund. Request for a refund must be made within 5 days of receiving the item.
14. All sales are final. Personal checks from a first time buyer may require a two week hold until the check clears the bank.
15. Errors and omissions. Although we have made every effort to accurately describe each lot, if you believe there is an error or omission, please contact us and we will endeavor to change it on the auction site. If for any reason the error or omission cannot be corrected, we reserve the right to withdraw the lot and relist it at a later time.
16. Upon completion of the auction, please log back into your dashboard on the website. Once there, you'll be able to check the lots you won, choose the shipping method you prefer and then select your payment method. If you need a visual tutorial, please check out the site at: https://adventurehouse.com/ah_auctions/guide-to-our-auctions/. You can also read the tutorial published on page 5 of this catalog.

Additional Auction Information

1. This auction catalog is arranged by the auction number and date of closing.
2. The titles in each auction are displayed in this catalog in alphabetical order, but the auction lots will be mixed in a random order. Please check the website for the closing time of each lot.
3. Lots will close in two minute intervals beginning at 9:00 pm Eastern time. You may bid at any time the lots become active up to the closing time for that lot. If a lot receives a bid within three minutes prior to that lot closing, the closing time for that lot will extend an additional five minutes.
4. There is a slight increase on the buyers premium for these auctions. We will now be charging a 15% buyers premium.
5. All lots have a grade and grade description. If you have any questions, there is a Private Message menu item in which you may contact us directly.
6. There are 719 individual lots divided up into 10 auctions. There are thousands of other books, pulps and fanzines we’ve already added to our direct sales pages. You may find those at: www.adventurehouse.com/shop. You may search by title, author or artist using the search bar found on the upper right hand portion of the website’s first page.
Some knew him as Ed, and some knew him as Dan, either way he was a super fan of Robert E. Howard and H.P. Lovecraft. His collecting interests ran the gamut of original pulps and paperbacks to magazines and appearances by his favorite female model Bettie Page. Ed collected fanzines, art, comics, reprints, hardbacks...well if it was made of paper and appealed to his interest he wanted it!

He packed his vast collection into a small house he shared with his wife, Kathy and two sons in the Maryland suburbs. Ed was a frequent passenger when my book/video store partner and I packed ourselves off to numerous conventions. Be it the York, PA antiquarian book fair, Paperback Show in NYC, Pulpcon in Ohio, Worldcon in Baltimore or Windy City in Chicago. Ed had to endure some long trips, and not necessarily planned long trips to boot. His last visit to Windy City turned into a weather nightmare. On our return trip to Maryland, a Spring snowstorm shut down parts of the Ohio and PA turnpikes. What should have been a fourteen hour trip, turned into a three day ordeal.

For years after the pulps ceased to be published, collecting magazines was relegated to ads in fanzines, an occasional catalog and on the rare event an actual convention. Luckily the Washington DC area had several major pulp dealers and several notable collectors, yet Ed was always on the lookout for more. Eventually the search became easier once eBay came along. There was a friendly competition between us, although I was never going to catch up as he had a decade head start.

Ed Gobbett was a veteran of the US Army and served time in Korea guarding the boarder with his K9 dog. Ironically enough, once out of the Army, Ed became a postal carrier and he fretted about the aggresive dogs on his postal route. After several decades pounding the pavement delivering mail, he changed crafts and moved indoors and manned a postal counter near his home until he retired.

Nearly all of his collection included a note card, or more likely a sticker attached to the back of the bag, highlighting important information. This information would run the gamut of his favorite authors or artists that appeared in the magazine, or perhaps some historical note he gleaned from the magazine. Adding to that data, he would pen his favorite phrase..."Rare Thus." A pseudo antiquarian term in which he believed that pulps in general are rare. For those who are jaded about pulps, especially if we've had hundreds if not thousands pour through our hands, pulps indeed are rare. Print runs, even amongst the best titles paled in comparision to even Golden Age comics and glossy slick magazines. Titles like THE SHADOW in its heyday would receive print runs of 300,000 copies. SUPERMAN received a print run exceeding 1 million. Titles like STREET & SMITH'S LOVE STORY MAGAZINE had even higher print runs than the standard pulp...yet try to find a copy of the first issue. So...Ed, your pulps are indeed RARE THUS.

What would attract Ed's attention in the realm of collecting? He loved cover art, and delighted in showing off his finds with a comment about the cover design or some author he collected. Any fanzine, paperback or pulp that included Robert E. Howard was fair game. It didn't stop with REH. All one has to do is scan through this catalog and the authors highlighted, to see what interested him. He had a nearly complete run of WEIRD TALES. You won't see them in this catalog because most of them were sold through another dealer to a single collector. You can see more of Ed's other interests if you check out my good friend and former video/book store partner's eBay store under the name "bookzim."

Ed was generous with his time and talents. Always willing to help fellow fans, Ed corresponded with numerous collectors, amateur authors and publishers. He wasn't exceedingly well known throughout fandom, but that was pretty much the way he liked it. In fact, I've been selling the collection of REH's Literary Executor Glenn Lord, and the amount of corespondance and support that they gave each other is vast. For nearly 40 years I counted myself as one of Ed's friends. Our last few years were mostly apart, but I'm still saddened by his passing and believe it's my privledge to bring part of his personal collection once again to the market.
Guide to Pay For Auction Winners

When you find yourself as one of the lucky winners of a lot, please follow the instructions here to choose your payment and shipping method.

1. Login to your account on the auction site. Click on the Login/Register and enter your login information.

2. Once logged in, the Login/Register will change to My Account. Click again now on the My Account link.

3. Your dashboard will appear. From here you’ll be able to make changes to your billing or shipping addresses, payment methods and in this case, click on the AUCTIONS link.

4. Then click on the Bids Won menu selection to view all those lots you’ve won. If you’ve won more than one lot, click Check Out All.

5. If this is the first time you’ve won a lot with our auction, you’ll most likely need to fill in your Billing and Shipping details.

6. Once you’ve entered your name and shipping/billing information, proceed to payment. Click on your preferred shipping method and then your choice of payment. Check, Paypal, or your Credit Card through Square. Click on PLACE ORDER and you are done. Please remember to click on Check Out All, if you’ve won more than one lot. Paying for each lot will incur a shipping fee for each lot, where Check Out All will combine the lots into a single transaction and shipping fees will be calculated on the total weight of all items purchased.
